When the Science Group planned a visit to Jodrell Bank during the 70th anniversary year of the site, we didn't realise that our chosen date, 2nd August, was also the 60th anniversary of the day when the first signals were received by the Lovell telescope in 1957. This was just a few weeks before the USSR launched Sputnik 1 and began the space age. Sputnik was launched using a modified intercontinental ballistic missile which meant that the telescope was extremely useful to the British and American governments and their NATO allies who were trying to keep track of what the USSR were doing during the Cold War.

To mark the 60th anniversary of 'first light' on the Lovell Telescope, the second radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, the Mark II, together with some ancillary buildings, were granted listed building status by English Heritage and the press and TV were on site to report on the story.

While our group did not feature on North West Tonight (as far as we know), we were given a fascinating range of information about the workings of the site and of the science of exploring the universe using radio wave detectors rather than optical telescopes.

We learnt that the Lovell telescope is so sensitive that it could pick up a mobile phone signal from Mars, so all phones need to be switched off on the site. When the Soviet Union's Luna 9 unmanned spacecraft sent back the first pictures from the surface of the moon in 1966, Jodrell Bank intercepted the signal and, using a fax machine borrowed from a Manchester newspaper office, produced the picture and published it to the world before the Soviets officially released it. Also, as of 2nd August 2017, there are only two listed buildings in England that can move around and both of them are at Jodrell Bank!

Despite being fairly close by, this was the first time that several of our party had been to Jodrell Bank and everyone enjoyed the visit.

Science Group meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month at 2pm in the Holy Trinity Tennis Club pavilion.

Llandudno

Author, Val Truman; photos David Skelton.

The Outings Group trip to Llandudno started well with everyone arriving on time. The weather was uncertain with cloudy skies with the possibility of rain later in the day. However the forecasters were proved wrong as no rain occurred plus no chilly winds which was an added bonus. We arrived at the Tween Mill in good time and on arrival Anne having used her "persuasive powers" we were offered a drink of our choice free of charge! Thank you Anne. It's as well that we have limited time at the Tweed Mill as the temptation to purchase a whole new wardrobe is hard to resist.

On arrival at Llandudno, as usual we went off in groups to enjoy the different sights and attractions Llandudno has to offer and of course to find our favourite eateries for lunch. There are so many cafes/restaurants etc to choose from. Even the hotels on the promenade open their doors to non-residents for coffee/lunch etc. Whatever the need, a very warm and welcoming resort.

It was a perfect day for taking a stroll along the pier, taking the tramway up the Great Orme or for those brave enough even the cable car as there was virtually no wind. Well worth the trip as the views across the bay and beyond are pretty amazing!

Punch and Judy were in "top form" entertaining the children seated crossed-legged on the floor and those of us "oldies" watching suddenly became children again joining in the chorus "he's behind you." Such a happy atmosphere.

The shopping in Llandudno is pretty special too with rows of shops and restaurants fronted by Victorian glass and filigree wrought iron canopies giving the streets a very special feel of "Bygone Times".

The journey home was a bit longer than normal all due to the on-going roadworks at Runcorn but it didn't spoil what had again been a very enjoyable day.

Guitar Group

Author, Linda McAuley.

Our group commenced a few months ago and meets once a fortnight at the Formby Club. John, our teacher, is a most accomplished guitarist and his enthusiasm and skill has helped us all. We started with simple chords and we are now beginning to finger pick. The answer to all our problems, according to John, is to practice, practice, practice! While we will never be stars, it is enjoyable to improve our playing ability.

If anyone wishes to join the group, whatever their ability, please contact Groups Secretary, Linda McAuley.

The Time Travelling U3A Member

When a U3A member recently went to the clinic for a scan, he was put into the machine by an attractive, young technician. Sometime later, when the examination was over, he was helped out of the machine by a far older woman. The member remarked, "How long was I in there for?"

What's a Hipster?

My four-year-old grandchild recently asked "What's a hipster?"

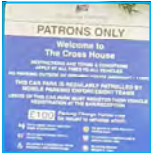

"Someone who will wear something just to look different," I said. "They'll often buy clothes in charity shops and wear thick glasses."

"Is Grandma a hipster?" he asked.

Group News

Author, Linda McAuley, Group Secretary.

You should show your blue 2017 membership cards when you attend group meetings. All groups are only for current, paid up members. If interested, please contact the Groups Secretary unless otherwise stated.

Cross House Car Park: Will all Group Leaders please note that PATRONS ONLY are allowed to use this car park. The pub has now appointed a company to enforce a £100 fine for non-customers. Some groups have been using the car park to assemble and leave their cars for a period of time. Please let your group members know.

Book Club 1: We now have vacancies in this group. We meet in members' homes (in rotation) on the first Thursday of each month 10:30 to 12:30. The books are selected by each member and it is a very informal friendly meeting with tea/coffee and biscuits provided by the host. Contact Anne Sixsmith on 875742 or Phyl Frankland on 831974.

Bridge: Would anyone be interested in teaching Bridge at either or both beginner and intermediate level.

Diabetes Group: This new group for those with diabetes is for members to exchange experiences and support one another.

Guitar Group: The group meets once a fortnight on a Wednesday afternoon, learning a mixture of skills.

Local History Group 5 is a long established group looking to welcome some new members who are keen to participate in monthly outings and perhaps to get involved in organising one outing each year. We currently meet on the 3rd Monday in the month but are considering alternating this with the 3rd Thursday to suit more people. We are holding a planning meeting on Monday 13th November at 11:00am in the Cross House Inn and would like anyone who might be interested in joining us to come along. Many thanks, Rob and Barbara Dodd.

Sight & Hearing Group: This new group for those with full or partial visual and/or hearing impairment is to exchange experiences and support one another.

Sunday Lunch Group 1: There are 4 vacancies in this group which started in January 2011. We dine once a month on the 2nd Sunday, usually meeting at 12:30 for 1:00pm. Every members takes a turn to book a venue (approx. every 18 months) and will be responsible for taking calls re-booking or cancellations. To give an overview of where we have eaten his year: The Grapes, Cross House, The Royal, The Freshfield, The Pinewoods, The Bold, Dolce Vita Ainsdale, The Ship Haskayne, The Scarisbrick Downholland. Please phone Jan Kemp on 876745 if interested.

Easedale Tarn

Author, Marcia Thompson.

The Fellwalkers (led by Mike Williams) set out from Grasmere to climb Sergeant Man. After a coffee break at Easedale Tarn, we climbed up beside the ghyll – a watery route thanks to the heavy rain of the previous day. At the top, with fine views over the Langdales and Stickle Tarn, we stopped for lunch. After this, the weather turning wet and windy, it was decided to forego Sergeant Man and head back to Grasmere over the undulating ridge of Blea Rigg and Silver How. Despite the inclement weather, a great day was had by all with fine views and good company. The photograph shows the group after the climb up from Easedale Tarn.

Clatterbridge Appeal

Author, David Manning-Fox.

On Sunday 3rd September, four intrepid members of the U3A Cycling Group girded up their lycra and set off in an attempt to justify the confidence of the kind band of sponsors who were backing them to undertake the 50-mile version of "The Ride of the Roses" in support of Clatterbridge Cancer Charity.

The event started from Banks Leisure Centre and made its way along flat roads through Hesketh Bank, Tarleton, Bretherton to Leyland. From there it headed up into the hills past Hoghton Tower, paused briefly for refreshments at the Nab's Head, and then returned via Samlesbury, Walton-le-Dale, Lostock Hall to Bretherton and back to Banks.

As luck would have it, it was cold, wet and windy over the entire circuit, but I suppose that merely added to the sense of achievement at the end!

However the real sense of achievement has come from the financial support we have received - and for which we are very grateful. Two weeks on and we can report that we have raised a total of £1300. When we started training for the event we didn't have a target figure in mind; if we had done, it would have been nowhere near that amount. It just goes to show how much Clatterbridge is appreciated!

Would we do it again? Watch this space!

4 Diaries: The 2018 U3A diaries are now available, costing £2.50 each and can be purchased at the Wednesday Speaker Meeting and the Thursday coffee morning.

5 Formby U3A Committee Posts: There will be the usual formal announcements leading up to the AGM in March when, in accordance with procedure, the whole Committee will resign. Whilst some will stand for re-election it is already known there is an ongoing vacancy for Vice-Chairman and also the Secretary is standing down. It is essential there is a nomination for each of these posts by March. In addition, and equally important, 4 vacancies for Non-Officer Committee members will be created by those who have served their 3 years. This is an opportunity to join the team and engage in a fulfilling role helping your U3A to continue its great work in Formby.

In Memoriam

Seeing her friend wearing a new locket, the U3A member asked if it was a memento of some sort inside.

“Yes,” she replied, “a lock of my husband's hair.”

“But your husband's still alive.”

“I know, but his hair is gone.”

Outings Group

Author, Ann Blackman, Phone 871127.

Outings are open to all paid up members of the U3A. All we ask is that you have the ability to get on and off the coach independently. We cannot be responsible for providing assistance. The coach can accommodate mobility aids which are kept in the luggage compartment on the bus.

Owing to increased demand, we cannot reserve tickets: Tickets will be allocated on a first come and paid for – first reserved basis. A separate cheque is required for each outing and it is essential that members include their telephone number with each booking. Several cheques have been received with no information and I have struggled to identify what they are for. If no contact details are provided, I am unable to contact people when outings are fully booked.

Bookings and information are available at U3A monthly meetings, or coffee mornings. Alternatively please send a stamp addressed envelope to: Ann Blackman, 9 River Close, Formby, Liverpool L37 6DJ, enclosing a separate cheque for each outing made out to Formby U3A Outings Group, having your name, address and telephone number on the back.

Fishing

“Poor Soul,” thought the well-dressed U3A member as he watched the old man fish in a puddle outside the pub. So he invited the old man inside for a drink. As they sipped their drinks, the member thought he’d humour the old man and asked, “So how many have you caught today?”

The old man replied, “You’re the eighth.”
